

Table 5. Classification scheme

Questions	Answers
What is the geographic distribution of the information sources?	(i) France, (ii) Germany, (iii) Portugal, (iv) Spain, (v) others.
What is the local distribution of the information sources?	(i) Congress, (ii) Symposium, (iii) Conference, (iv) others.
What are the most cited primary studies?	Consult the report of citations offered by some search engines and keep the highest citation related to an article
What are the research methods most frequently applied and in which study context?	(i) Systematic mapping, (ii) literature review, (iii) pilot study, (iv) mixed, (v) others
What kinds of methods or tests have been proposed or used to facilitate the diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease through the use of videogames (serious and pervasive)?	(i) MOCA, (ii) MMSE, (iii) others.
How effective has been the test application to evaluate the suffering of AD through the use of video games (serious and pervasive)?	(i) F1-score = 0.99, (ii) Accuracy = 1.00, (iii) Cohen's kappa(K) = 0.98, (iv) specificity = 1.0, (v) sensitivity = 1.0, (vi) others.
Benefits and / or limitations of the use of videogames (serious and pervasive) in the possible patients with AD?	(i) Treatment to slow the progress of AD, (ii) Lack of knowledge of the use of technology, (iii) Ease access to video games, (iv) Improve the quality of life, (v) Support to health personnel for the diagnosis of AD, (vi) others.
What is the trend of the proposals developed for the diagnosis of AD by video games?	(i) Serious games, (ii) pervasive games, (iii) machine learning, (iv) virtual reality, (v) others.